Festival Surprise: Students Save the Show!

> Report from Eskişehir by Elif Yıldız, 6-B

Last weekend, my whole family was in Eskişehir. Why? Because my big brother Emre's basketball team was there for a youth tournament! The city's big spring festival was on at the same time. Here is my report.

The tournament was on Saturday morning in a sports hall near the city centre. There were eight teams from all over Türkiye. Emre's team from Antalya wasn't the winner, but they were second! "We were very tired, but we were pleased with our games!" says Emre (16).

In the afternoon, there were art and music events along the Porsuk River. Local artists were in white tents next to the water, and their paintings were very creative. Mum was in the tents for two hours! There were lots of boats on the river, too.

The biggest surprise was in the evening. At seven o'clock, the audience was ready for the famous rock band The Night Owls, but the stage was empty. Why weren't they there? Because their van was stuck in a traffic jam on the road from Ankara! So a student band from a local university went onto the stage. "We were really nervous," says Ayşe, the band's singer, "but the audience was amazing. They were so kind to us!"

The Night Owls were finally there at eight. “Those students were brilliant, weren't they?” says their drummer. “Now they're our favourite band!”

The festival was also a chance to raise money for village schools, and the organisers are very happy. There is enough money for two thousand new books!

But there was one problem. Public transport was very crowded all weekend, and there was no parking near the river. My advice for next year? Come on foot or by tram – not by car! (Just ask my dad…)

Let's check!

4.30 p.m.

Emre Hi, family! Don't forget the festival's closing concert tonight. It's at six, on the big stage next to the river. I have a photo of the poster, so I'm 100% sure!

Mum Great! Dad and I plan to come by car.

Elif Mustafa and I are on a boat ride on the Porsuk with Grandma Nermin. Boats are my new favourite means of transport!

Emre I prefer the tram. It's fast, and there are no traffic jams!

5.20 p.m.

Dad Bad news. We're stuck in a traffic jam. There's a big lorry in front of us and a van behind us.

Emre A car in the city centre during a festival? Bad idea, Dad!

Mum I agree with Emre! Sorry, Murat, I'm getting out. I can walk faster than this car!

Emre I'm on the tram now. It's really crowded! I'm between a student with a guitar and a lady with five shopping bags.

Elif We're off the boat. We plan to walk along the river to the stage. It's only ten minutes on foot.

Mustafa This is Mustafa on Grandma's phone! Are there any dinosaurs at the concert?

Elif No, Mustafa. Only musicians. Sorry!

5.55 p.m.

Elif Mum is with us now, in front of the stage. But it's very quiet. There isn't any music! Hang on… There's a big sign next to the stage: "Closing concert: 8 p.m." EMRE!

Emre Er… oops. Eight, not six? The photo was very small. I'm a photographer, not a reader!

Elif You were 100% sure, weren't you?!

Emre Well… I was 50% sure. Maybe 30%.

Dad Good news for me, then! I'm still in the traffic jam.

Elif Plan B: çibörek for dinner, then the concert at eight?

Dad Count me in! Let's meet at the restaurant next to the bridge.

The Day Pamuk Came to the Festival

Linked to: Student's Book pp. 91 and 93 – prepositions of place and the local news about a festival

BEFORE YOU READ Do you have a pet? Where does it like hiding?

> Elif's Notebook · Weekend post from Eskişehir

Hi! This weekend, we are in Eskişehir for Emre's basketball tournament, and Pamuk is here too – she was in her carrier for the long drive from Antalya! On Saturday, there was a spring festival in the park next to our hotel, so Mum, Dad, Mustafa and I went on foot. Pamuk was in our room. Or… was she?

The park was very crowded. There were food stalls, a face-painting tent and a small stage for local bands. Mustafa was in the face-painting tent for twenty minutes, and after that he was a dinosaur. A very loud dinosaur! Mum was a butterfly.

Soon, the first band was on the stage. Suddenly, Mustafa was excited. "Elif! Look! There's a white cat in front of the stage!" There are lots of white cats in Türkiye, aren't there? But this cat had a blue collar with a little bell… just like Pamuk's!

A minute later, the cat wasn't there any more. We were all worried. Was she behind the food stalls? No. Was she among the people? No. Was she in the face-painting tent? No – that was a boy with a cat face!

Then the drummer was at the microphone: "Hang on, everybody! Is this somebody's cat?" There, under the stage, between two big speakers, was Pamuk! She was asleep on the singer's jacket! The audience was surprised, and the musicians were pleased. The singer had a big smile: "She's our number one fan!"

Pamuk was very tired, so I took her back to the hotel in my arms.

But how did Pamuk get to the festival? Mustafa's backpack was open on the bed, next to Pamuk. On the way to the park, it was very heavy… Mustafa's face is very red now, and Mum wants a word with him. Mustafa, any ideas?

Elif (and Pamuk, of course!)

Amazing Ways to Get Around

Linked to: Student's Book p. 94 – Ready to Explore: railways, planes and cars from past to present

BEFORE YOU READ What is the most unusual means of transport you know?

> Turunç Times · School Magazine · Transport Special
> by Elif Yıldız, 6-B

Last weekend, Mum, Dad, my brothers and I were in Eskişehir for Emre's basketball tournament. It was a great city for transport fans! In two days, I was on a tram, on a boat on the Porsuk River and on foot on lots of bridges. Eskişehir also has a high-speed train line to Ankara. In 2009, it was the first YHT line in Türkiye. Here are some more amazing ways to get around!

London, England – The Tube: London's underground is the oldest in the world. Its first railway line was in service in 1863, and the first trains were steam trains! Today, Londoners call it "the Tube". Millions of people use it every day, so it is often very crowded.

The Netherlands – Bikes, bikes, bikes! The Netherlands is a flat country, so cycling is easy. Lots of people ride their bikes to school and work. There are bike paths along many roads, and next to some train stations, there are huge parking areas just for bikes!

Venice, Italy – Boats, not buses: There are lots of canals in Venice, and there are no cars in the old city. People walk or travel by boat. The city's "buses" are water buses, and there are also water taxis and the famous gondolas.

Japan – The bullet train: Japan's high-speed train, the Shinkansen, is world-famous. The first line was in service in 1964. The trains are very fast, and they are almost never late!

İstanbul, Türkiye – One city, two continents: İstanbul is in Europe and in Asia. Every day, ferries cross the Bosphorus between the two sides. There is also a railway tunnel under the Bosphorus, Marmaray. It was ready in 2013, and now its trains link the two continents, too.

So, which means of transport is your favourite?

Let's check!

My score: _____ / 17

1 True or False? Write T (True) or F (False). Correct the false sentences.

a The first YHT line in Türkiye was between Eskişehir and Ankara. T F

b London's underground is the oldest in the world. T F c The first trains on the London Underground were electric. T F d Cycling is difficult in the Netherlands because there are lots of hills. T F e There are no cars in the old city of Venice. T F

f The Shinkansen trains are often late. T F

2 Choose the correct answer Circle a, b or c.

1 What do Londoners call their underground?
(a) the Metro (b) the Tube (c) the Bullet

2 Where can you take a water bus?
(a) in Venice (b) in London (c) in the Netherlands

3 When was the first Shinkansen line in service?
(a) in 1863 (b) in 1964 (c) in 2013

3 Answer the questions Write full answers.
