Adverbs of Frequency

My Busy Week

Elif's blog · Antalya

Hi everyone! People often ask me, “Elif, are you ever bored?” My answer is always the same: “No, never!” My week is full of fun things.

I get up at seven o'clock on school days. I always have breakfast with my family – we never skip breakfast in our house! Dad usually makes omelettes, but on Sundays Mum makes pancakes. Yum!

I usually walk to school with my best friend Maya. We only take the bus on rainy days. It doesn't rain much in Antalya, so we sometimes take the bus.

After school, I go to the art club on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, so I often get home late. My little brother Mustafa is always hungry after school. He never does his homework without a snack!

Saturday is my favourite day. Maya usually comes to my house in the afternoon, and we have our own band. She plays the drums and I draw posters for our concerts. We are often very loud – sorry, neighbours! My big brother Emre is never at home on Saturdays. He has basketball training in the morning, and he meets his friends in the afternoon.

On Sundays, we often call Grandma Nermin in İstanbul. She always asks about my drawings. How about you? What do you usually do at the weekend?

WORDS skip: not have, not do · snack: a small meal · loud: very noisy · neighbours: people who live next to you

1 How often? Answer the questions. Use always, usually, often, sometimes or never. Count the days in the blog!

3 Find five mistakes Emre wrote about his week. Find five mistakes with adverbs of frequency. Number 0 is an example.

Hi! My name is Emre and I'm sixteen. I'm a very busy student! I have basketball training on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, so I ~~sometimes~~ usually [0] play basketball. After training I am hungry always, so Mum usually cooks a big dinner. I have a guitar lesson on Wednesdays and Sundays, so I often play the guitar. My guitar teacher is very strict, but that's OK – I never am late for my lessons. I drink a big glass of milk every morning, so I usually drink milk for breakfast. I meet my friends on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday, so I usually meet my friends. My little sister Elif is a great artist. She always draws, and she sometimes draws me! How about you? How often do you do sport?

A Clean Beach for Everyone

A summer story · Muğla

In the summer holiday, Elif's family and Kerem's family spent a week in Muğla. One morning, a woman from the local nature club came to their hotel. "We are cleaning the beach on Saturday," she said. "Can you help us[1]?" Of course, everybody wanted to help her[2].

On Saturday, the beach was full of rubbish: plastic bottles, bags and even old shoes. The woman gave the children gloves and big black bags. "Wear them[3] all the time," she told them. "Some rubbish is sharp."

A girl with red hair worked next to Elif. Her name was Zeynep, and she was from Muğla. Elif liked her[4] immediately. Zeynep showed Elif a sea turtle nest in the sand. There was a small sign next to it. "We protect it[5] every summer," Zeynep said. "Plastic bags are terrible for turtles. They think the bags are jellyfish, and they eat them[6]."

Kerem brought his little robot to the beach. It can't pick up rubbish, but it can carry small things, so it carried the children's water bottles. Mustafa followed it[7] everywhere and talked to it all morning!

At the end of the day, the children had twenty bags of rubbish. The woman from the nature club thanked them and took a photo of them[8]. Now the photo is on Elif's wall, and she often looks at it. Zeynep and Elif are good friends now. They send messages to each other every week.

WORDS rubbish: things we throw away · gloves: clothes for your hands · nest: a home for eggs · protect: keep safe · jellyfish: a soft sea animal

1 Who or what? Look at the numbered words in the story. Who or what are they?

3 Find five mistakes

Read Zeynep's message. Find five mistakes with pronouns. Number 0 is an example.

Hi Elif! How are you? I miss you a lot! Yesterday was a special day. My cousins Ali and Duru visited ~~I~~ me [0], and we went to the beach together. In the evening, we saw baby turtles in the sand! They were very small and very fast. Ayla from the nature club was there, too. "Don't touch they," she told us. "They can find the sea without help." So we watched them from far away. Ali is only seven, and he couldn't see the turtles, so I helped me. I lifted him up! Duru took some photos – without flash, of course – and I'm sending they to you now. Aren't they beautiful? Please show the photos to Kerem and Mustafa. Mustafa loves turtles, so tell he about the babies! Can you call my on Sunday?

Love, Zeynep

Festival Day

A dialogue · Eskişehir

Elif, Mum and Mustafa are visiting Uncle Hakan in Eskişehir. Today, Elif's cousin Berk, Uncle Hakan's son, takes them to a youth festival in a big park.

Berk: This park is amazing, isn't it? There's a festival here every summer.
Elif: It's beautiful! And the stage is huge. You come here every year, don't you?
Berk: Yes, I do. My friends have a band, and they're playing this afternoon.
Mum: Really? They aren't very old, are they?
Berk: No, they're only fifteen. The drummer is my best friend, Can.
Mustafa: Look! There's a white cat on the stage! It's sleeping between the speakers!
Elif: That cat isn't afraid of the noise, is it?
Berk: No, it isn't. It lives in the park, and everybody loves it. It often sleeps there.
Mum: You were at the festival last year, weren't you, Berk?
Berk: Yes, I was. It was fun, but it rained all day.
Elif: It won't rain today, will it?
Berk: I don't think so. There are only a few small clouds.
Mustafa: Mum, we can buy a lemonade, can't we?
Mum: Yes, we can. But you didn't finish your lunch, did you?
Mustafa: I did! I ate all my pasta!
Mum: OK then. Elif, you're coming with us, aren't you?
Elif: No, thanks, Mum. I'm staying here with Berk. Listen – the band is starting! Oh, look at the cat. It's running away!

Elif: Yes! We came home last night.

Maya: The festival was fun, didn't it?

Elif: It was amazing! Berk's friends play really well.

Maya: Your cousin plays in the band, too, isn't he?

Elif: No, he doesn't. But his best friend Can is the drummer.

Maya: Cool! You didn't forget my present, didn't you?

Elif: Of course not! I bought you a meerschaum keyring. Eskişehir is famous for meerschaum.

Maya: Thank you! Mustafa loved the festival cat, didn't she?

Elif: Yes! Now he wants a second cat. But Pamuk won't like that, will she?

Maya: Haha, no! Your parents are happy about it, are they?

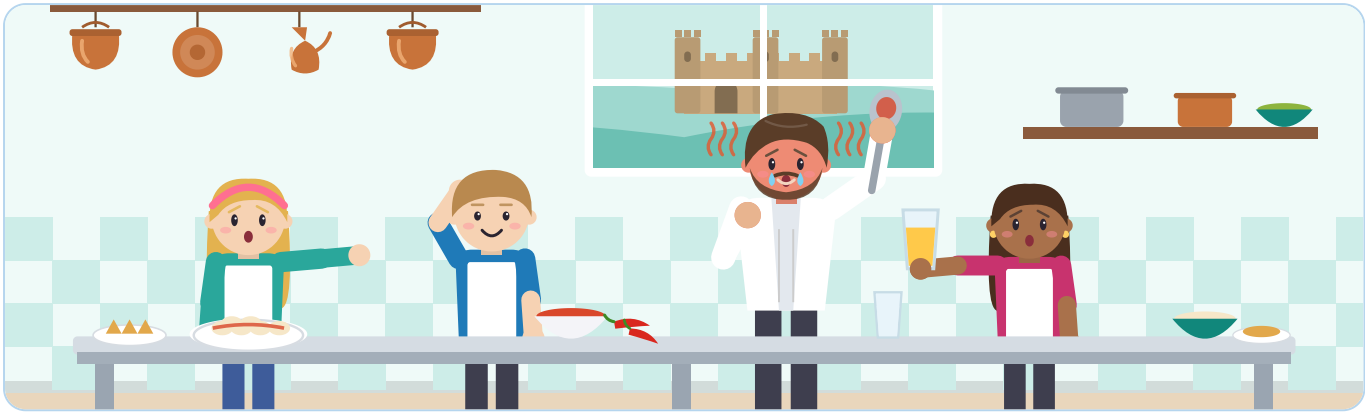

Elif: Not really! Dad says one cat is enough.

Greetings from Gaziantep!

Elif's email to Zeynep · all three topics

Hi Zeynep,

How are you? Thank you for the turtle photos! I put them on my wall, and I look at ~~they~~ them [0] every day.

Guess what? We are in Gaziantep this week! Dad gives AI trainings in different cities, and we sometimes travel with him. His trainings are in the mornings, so Mum, Mustafa and I explore the city.

Yesterday we went to a cooking workshop for children. The chef has workshops on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, so he sometimes cooks with children. He was very funny – he never is serious! He showed we how to make lahmacun. It's a thin, round bread with meat on top, and it's delicious. My dough was terrible, and there was flour on my nose! The girl next to me had a problem, too. Her dough was very sticky, so I helped me.

Here in Gaziantep, we eat baklava after dinner every evening, so we usually eat baklava. Mustafa loves it!

Ali and Duru are back in Ankara now, are they? Your school starts next week, isn't it? You aren't nervous, aren't you? Don't worry, you're a great student.

Kerem says hello. He wants to see you again, so please visit we in Antalya! And write my soon!

Love, Elif
